THE GOLDEN WEST.

AN INTERESTING REVIEW OF THE PEOPLE, TOWNS AND POSSIBILITIES OF THE GREAT WESTERN SECTION OF OUR COUNTRY.

The Colored Americans Making Good in the Far West and a Steady Stream of Desirable Immigration Now Pouring Into That Splendid Country With Its Wonderful Possibilities.

CHAPTER IX.

At the close of our Emancipation celebration address, a number of citizens of Portland shook our hand and told us that it was one of the most enjoyable and enthusiastic gatherings that had ever been held in that city by the Colored people, and after partaking of an elegant little spread that had been arranged by the ladies of the Church, we returned to our hotel tired but happy and satisfied that we had kept the faith of ourselves and to the immortal heroes of the other race who made our freedom a reality.

Off to Seattle. With a positive reluctance we arose the next day to start on our journey northward to Tacoma and Seattle, and early as it was Brother Green, one of the loyal members of Euclid Lodge, was on hand to see us off and that our comfort was looked after. He brought us a box of cigars each, ordered an elegant taxi to carry us to the station and saw that we got one of the most elegant breakfasts we have ever eaten, all before 7:30 a. m. After an uneventful trip we arrived at Tacoma about 1 o'clock and found it a very pretty and busy city of about 150,000.

Rev. H. M. Collins, whom we expected to meet, was back in Kansas City, and knowing no one else we made our stay quite short. Rev. Collins is highly respected by white and black alike here and is a living proof of the possibilities of the young minister out in the West. We took a car and rode over the city for several hours viewing its many points of interest, and late that evening left for Seattle, the "hustler of the West." It is only 40 miles from Tacoma to Seattle and we were there in a very short time and found a great city full of life and excitement. We called a taxi and were taken to the Dunbar hotel, where we were royally entertained during our stay by Brother Burr Williams, B. F. Tuit, Walter Bates, Oscar Collins, Shack Harris and others. Most of these are old Kansas City boys and they are all doing nicely out there.

Mr. B. F. Tuit has one of the most beautiful barber shops at 206 Main street we saw in the entire Northwest; elegant white enamel chairs with the new extra headrest, special chairs for children, manicurist; handles the leading Negro papers and is an up-to-date place of the first water. Oscar Collins has possibly the best saloon and club in the Northwest and has made thousands of dollars since being in Seattle. Burr Williams is president of the exclusive Dumas Social and Athletic Club and has recently bought some elegant property in that city. We also met Mrs. Miller, who was formerly Lulu Ward of Kansas City and a relative of M. H. Bass. We visited the office of the Searchlight and had a pleasant chat with Editor DeBoe, and also met Rev. McKens of the A. M. E. Church, a beautiful edifice which was built by Rev. W. T. Osborn, now pastor at Omaha. We never met as many Japs in our lives as we saw in Seattle; they are there literally by the thousands and they ramify every avenue of business life. All the vessels sailing to the Orient from Seattle harbor are manned by Japanese and Chinese sailors and the Japanese hotels receive the bulk of Negro patronage in that city. They are deploring very much the passage of the prohibition law which will make the entire state of Washington dry after January 1 and in Seattle alone they say there are 2,800 saloons which will go out of business on that date and will throw many people out of employment. Seattle is destined to be one of the great cities of this country and now boasts the population of more than 400,000. The tallest building in America outside of New York City is here, the L. C. Smith building, 42 stories high.

JUST THINK, MODERN, PRICE $1,800.

$50 down; $10 a month until paid. Cheaper than rent. If you are thinking of buying a home, here is your opportunity. A six-room frame, can be arranged for two families, hot and cold water and bath, located at 2012 Bales avenue; good neighborhood, good place to raise chickens and garden. Might accept a trade as a first payment down, so what have you to offer?

Why keep on paying rent and taking your landlord's insults? You can be your own boss and let your rent buy you a home. See Kinsler, Bell phone Grand 2303-B.

HIS NEIGHBORS SPEAK

Resolutions by the Kansas City Republicans Strongly Urge Walter S. Dickey for Senatorship.

Following are resolutions expressing the sense of the great mass meeting of Kansas City Republicans held at New Casino hall in that city Monday evening, November 29:

"This body of citizens of Kansas City, Mo., neighbors and fellow townsmen of Walter S. Dickey, being voluntarily assembled in mass meeting on November 29, 1915, and realizing that 'Whereas, For more than two years past, the industries of the nation have been disturbed, trade and commerce distressed, alarmed and halting, and a wide business depression has prevailed throughout this country, threatening the permanent destruction of the prosperity that formerly distinguished this American people, and which depression has been only accidentally and partially relieved by the unnatural conditions growing out of the disastrous war in Europe, which is stimulating a temporary demand in certain lines of industry, but which inevitably will be followed by even greater industrial stagnation than that which we have recently experienced unless we take precautionary and preventive measures be early adopted by our government and

'Whereas, Commercial prosperity is the life of the nation and when commerce is disturbed and interrupted by unwise legislation, a blow is struck at the heart of every trade, profession and employment of the people, and

'Whereas, The essential ingredient of success and progress is efficiency, which applies to government, as well as to business administration, and the attainment of efficiency in any undertaking requires the services of experts, skilled in the work to be undertaken, and

'Whereas, We realize that the problem confronting our government today, and which will confront it during the immediate future, is the restoration of the industrial and commercial progress and prosperity which this nation enjoyed, with but slight and temporary interruption, for nearly fifty years succeeding the Civil War, and during which time it attained a growth in material wealth, in population, in social advancement, in individual liberty and opportunity, in intelligence of citizenship and in the enjoyment by all people within its jurisdiction of the highest blessings which civilization can bestow, and

'Whereas, While the problem which confronted the nation in 1861 and with which our fathers wrestled, and which they solved to the satisfaction of succeeding generations and the eternal glory of the nation, was a social problem, the problems which confront the nation today are largely commercial and industrial and demand more than ever before in the history of our nation the services, the ripe experience and matured judgment of our successful business men, and call for the drafting into politics of business men, whose ability, integrity and patriotism have been thoroughly tried and proved, and

'Whereas, Our fellow townsman and neighbor, Walter S. Dickey, upon the urgent demand of hundreds of his fellow citizens, has consented to become a candidate for nomination by the Republican party of Missouri for the high office of United States Senator, and

'Whereas, His well known integrity, dynamic energy, wide business experience, rare constructive and executive ability, his keen vision and genius for organization and his acquaintance with the essential principles underlying healthy commerce building, and expansion, both individual and national, fit him in an unusual degree to discharge the duties of that high office at this critical period; and his great public service to this city and state, covering a period of more than thirty years, entitle him to that high honor and to the recognition by the people of this state, which unselfish devotion to duty merits, therefore, be it

'Resolved, First—That we hereby pledge ourselves to use all honorable means to secure the nomination at the coming primary election by the Republican party of Missouri, of Walter S. Dickey, for the office of Senator from this state;

'Second—That we invite and urge the cooperation of all good citizens of the state of Missouri in securing the nomination and election of Walter S. Dickey, sincerely believing that if we shall succeed in this purpose, we will render a great service to the people of this state and of the nation and reflect honor, not only upon this city, but upon the great state of Missouri; Be it further

'Resolved, That these resolutions be engrossed and published and circulated among all the voters of this state as evidence of the esteem in which Walter S. Dickey is held in this community, after a continuous residence of thirty-one years, and of our belief in his exceptional qualifications for the high office of United States Senator from the State of Missouri.'

(These resolutions were passed by a rising, unanimous vote amidst a scene of remarkable enthusiasm.)

NATIONAL BUSINESS MEN'S LEAGUE HERE.
It is all settled now that Kansas City will be the seat of the 1916 meeting of the National Negro Business League. The executive committee, in session held at Tuskegee Institute, unanimously agreed upon the metropolis of Western Missouri as the place and the third Wednesday in August next as the time.
